

Are private placement programs real?

A major law firm recently asked me to prove that private placement programs (PPP) trade are real.

Given that the person asking was a senior counsel, I decided to use evidence from other law firms.

Sometimes it's much easier to show evidence or opinions from peers in the legal industry vs. banking folks like me.

So here is a white paper by a law firm on private placement programs:

<https://financiallegalgroup.com/private-placement-programs-managed-buy-sell-agreements-and-the-purchase-and-sale-of-bank-issued-debt-instruments/>

Please note: We do not have any relationship with the law firm mentioned here, nor do we endorse firms outside our circle of trusted and vetted partners.

Next, I proved that large banks are consistently purchasing and monetizing various banking notes.

This document was the home run "evidence" showing major banks signing off on this program. It's an MTN offering from a top European bank: <https://www.nordea.com/en/doc/base-prospectus-for-nordea-bank-abp-emptn-programme-7-may-20211.pdf>

(The Principal Dealers are listed on page 474... and everyone should recognize some of these names).
I trust you find this information helpful.

My team and I are here and would love to support you in your participating in your first private placement program or hybrid program with us. You are always welcome to <https://56d15eb.com/ffoollllooww/track969719478081991/ericmhirsch@gmail.com/https%253A%252F%252Fcalendly.com%252Ftitang-team%252F60min%253Fmonth%253D2021-12>

Sincerely,

Titan Group Consulting Services

Line Of Credit Ai